

Wireless and Public Safety System Solutions

March 23, 2020

To our Manufacturers, Vendors, Sales Team and Customers

Even though the governors in our territory have not yet mandated that the population “shelter in place” we fully expect this to occur at some point in the near future. This is to notify you that TCG is considered an essential business supporting first responders in local, state and federal governments, railroads, hospitals, transportation and the military. TCG will continue its operations.

Many years ago, as a result of our business continuity planning, we provided for remote workers and have leveraged technologies to maintain communications and keep working regardless of our locations. All necessary precautions are being taken to protect our employees and contractors. For the next few weeks our complete staff will work from home.

While we are expecting that there may be some issues due to the global impact of COVID-19, these situations will be driven largely by supply chain issues. As we encounter these situations, we will advise you wherever necessary

Please know that The Cambridge Group will continue to support our customers and vendors to the very best of our ability

Stay safe and let us know how we can help you and your organizations during this unprecedented national crisis.

Sincerely.

Jay Tompson & David Patton
